

Dear Friends of Culture Academy Singapore,

I hope all of you are coping well during this Circuit Breaker period. For those of you who have been wondering what we have been up to over these past four months, we have been busy preparing to go digital with our popular offerings so that you can continue to enjoy our programmes in the comfort of your homes.

By now, you would have received an invitation to join the first online edition of our "In Conversation With" series featuring three eminent leaders in our arts and heritage sector. This webinar is the first in a series that we have specially put together so that you can continue to "attend" our programmes from the comfort of your homes.

From now until December, you will be able to join us every month and hear speakers from Singapore and abroad discussing topics related to the arts and heritage sector with a focus on leadership and sharing of best practices. We will also be offering other digital programmes and products. So do look out for our EDMs or visit our website to find out more.

My colleagues and I look forward to welcoming you to our virtual programmes and please let us know if you would like to be included in our mailing list. Till we meet on the 28th of May.

Thangamma Karthigesu (Ms)
 Director, Capability Development and International Partnerships

WEBINAR

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

Past, Present and Future

In Conversation With Professor Bernard Tan and Mr Chng Hak-Peng

THU 28 MAY 2020 | 10am - 12pm

You are invited to our first online edition of Culture Academy's In Conversation With (ICW) Series, where we bring together arts and culture professionals and administrators to present any aspect of their work, with another professional from another field within or outside the sector, and be engaged in robust discussions and sharing of best practices.

Join us for this session and hear insights from our eminent speakers as they share their views on the growth and development of the music scene in Singapore, and the impact of Covid-19 on the sector, both present and the future.

Due to the current COVID-19 situation, we have turned our ICW into a new series of monthly webinars. So stay tuned for more information on subsequent editions!
